ABOUT CONGRESS

MEMBERS ARE TAKING A PIECE-MEAL VACATION.

NUMEROUS LAWS PASSED

A Resume of the Work of the Present Congress—New Revenue Bills to Be Taken Up in ugust.

(By W. C. Van Cleve.)

Denied a formal recess, the members of Congress are taking a piece-meal vacation anyway, and a general exodus has begun at Washington. An understanding was reached whereby a five weeks' recess was to be taken on Saturday, July 7, and arrangements were made to that end, but the whole program "blew up" at the last moment. The president desired that the wire control bill, which had passed the House, also pass the Senate and the labor representatives in the House, along with various other elements, opposed the final enactment of the program, and Majority Leader Kitchin withdrew it.

The new arrangement will enable those who feel that they must get away to do so while others will have to remain and hold the fort. Only routine business will be transacted during the period of the three-day recesses.

The last of the important bills to be passed is that authorizing the President to take over and operate all telegraph and telephone lines, and the $28,000,000 agricultural appropriation bill. The latter was returned by the President without his approval because of the provision increasing the basic price for wheat from $2.20 to $2.40.

The President has exercised the veto power freely. He vetoed the post office appropriation bill, because of an amendment authorizing the purchase by the government of the pneumatic tube service in eight of the principal cities of the country. The government leases have expired, and Postmaster General Burleson favors an auto service for the quick handling of mails in the cities. The President vetoed the legislative appropriation bill, carrying the salaries of all employes of the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government, because of the Borland amendment requiring a minimum day's work of eight hours by all government employes within the scope of the bill.

Under the existing plan, government employes in the departmental service are required to work at least seven hours per day, and may be required to work longer, at the discretion of the bureau heads. The Borland amendment provided for a minimum of eight hours instead of seven, and made no provision for additional pay for overtime. It was vigorously opposed by labor interests on this account, and the President insisted that Government employes had so far done all that was asked of them, and that this is not a favorable time to try out anything that is likely to breed discontent and dissatisfaction and disorganize the machinery of the government. The fact is that the government is having difficulty in holding its most needed employes because private employment is offering more attractive salaries.

All of these great bills were, of course, necessary to the continued operation of the government and were promptly repassed, with the objectionable features eliminated. The appropriation bill for the District of Columbia failed because of a disagreement between the House and Senate over what is known as "the half and half" plan. Under the plan in operation for many years, the Federal Government and the District of Columbia share equally in the cost of the district government. The House has, for several years, contended that this is not now necessary or just, as the District of Columbia has grown in wealth and become densely populated so that it should be practically self sustaining. The Senate has opposed any change in the financial system, preferring to expend the surplus in further improving and beautifying the city. A resolution was passed continuing present district appropriations for a period of two months.

The present session of Congress has been one of potential results. Its work has been varied and, outside of the session declaring war against Germany, perhaps the most far-reaching in the history of the government. Aside from the numerous big appropriation bills, appropriating money in sums beyond the appreciation of the ordinary mind, and carrying numerous legislative "riders," there have been many bills passed of tremendous importance as the necessary outgrowth of the war. The membership may well view its work with satisfaction. A glance at some of the measures enacted into law, with a momentary survey of their far-reaching importance, tells its own story of industry and activity.

The railroad control bill authorized the President to take over and operate during the war all the railroads in the United States, or so many as he might see fit.

A bill followed, guaranteeing to the owners and bondholders of the railroads the upkeep and average income from the operation of their property, and authorization was given to the President to initiate rates.

A similar measure has just been passed, authorizing the President to take over and control all the telegraph and telephone lines in the United States, together with the cable and radio lines, until peace is declared.

The war finance corporation was created, together with the capital issues committtee, the purpose of which is to finance private business and industrial institutions deemed needful during the war. Inversely, it can deny aid to any corporations not approved.

The Overman billl was passed which gave to the President the power to reorganize and reclassify and co-ordinate government departments and employes without regard to any laws which may have ruled heretofore.

Espionage and sedition laws were passed.

Numerous amendments were made to the shipping laws, the war risk insurance bureau act, and to the Federal reserve act.

A bill was passed permitting the government to buy bonds of the Federal Farm Loan Board to the extent of $200,000,000.

The draft law has been extended to include young men becoming 21 years old since June 5, 1917, and also to subjects of the allies and certain neutrals.

Provision has recently been made for another bond issue this falll to the amount of $8,000,000,000.

Sixty million dollars was appropriated for housing facilities.

A resolution submitting to the states an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for prohibition in all the states was passed and a similar resolution providing for woman suffrage passed the House and may yet pass the Senate.

Many other important measures were passed, but the above are the most important, as they are now recalled. It is a record to view with wonder and astonishment when it is remembered what these measures mean to a country like this.

The new revenue measure is being drafted by the Ways and Means Committee and it can proceed more satisfactorily with Congress resting than if actively engaged. It will attempt to raise, in addition to the $4,000,000,000 raised by the taxes now levied, another $4,000,000,000. It is regarded as certain that it will place a heavy tax upon all luxuries and unnecessary articles and atttempt to discourage the needless expenditure of money in

FOLK-WILFLEY RACE

CANDIDATES DEVOTE TIME TO RURAL COMMUNITIES.

GOOD MEETINGS ARE HELD

Farmers, Although Busy, Are Not Overlooking the Importance of Selecting Right Men.

The least concern over the outcome of the state primary election, so far as the nominees for United States Senator and state offices go, appears to exist in St. Louis and Kansas City. The country is where the candidates have excited interest and where their speeches are certain to draw attentive audiences.

The Senatorial race overshadows all others, and the most interest is centered in the contest between former Governor Folk and United States Senator Wilfley, who are striving for the Democratic nomination. Both of these candidates are putting up their battle in the smaller cities of the state. Each is now engaged in trying to cover as much territory as possible, for the primary election is drawing near.

Some city people imagine that the farmers are so busy that they have no time to spare for political meetings. This is a mistake in part, for although they are busy, they have not overlooked the importance of selecting the right men to represent Missouri in Washington, as well as the selection of local candidates. All the meetings in the country are well attended.

St. Joseph is the only large city that has been favored with political gatherings involving the contest over the romination for United States Senator. The big cities have largely been left to work out their own salvation.

All this week former Governor Folk and Senator Wilfley expect to devote their time to rural communities. They recognize where the battle is largely to be determined. The same thing is true f the Republican candidates for this office, save that the friends of Selden P. Spencer, of St. Louis, appear to be depending more upon the vote of the large cities than the vote of the country to nominate him over Col. Jay L. Terrey, who is a farmer and a fruit grower, and can appeal strongly to the agricultural districts of the state.

Senator Wilfley is to speak in Maryville on Wednesday afternoon, July 21.

TO DEDICATE SERVICE FLAG

Appropriate Exercises at the Normal Tomorrow—Class Play Day Stunts After Dedication.

The didication of the service flag of the State Normal school will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in front of the school building. There are 140 former Normal students now in the service. Appropriate exercises of music and speeches will be given. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

After the dedication exercises, the student body will go to the Normal park, where they will hold their class play exercises, and various games will be played. At 6 o'clock each county club will have its picnic supper. The Maryville Home Guards will give an exhibition drill for the students and are expected to reach the park about 8 o'clock.

SUICIDE WAS ATTEMPTED

Hopkins Woman Made Futile Attempt to Take Her Life Last Night.

Mrs. Wayne Ingram, of Hopkins, attempted to end her life by taking poison last night. The attempt failed, however, as she only took enough to burn her mouth severely. Immediate medical attention was furnished her, and she is improving nicely. The motive for the suicide attempt is not known.

FUNERAL OF JOHN FAULTZ.

Funeral services for John Faultz, who died Sunday night at the Ensworth hospital at St. Joseph, of blood poisoning, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Graham Methodist church, conducted by the Rev. S. D. Parlan. Burial was in the Maitland cemetery.

Miss Margaret Beattie, of Newport, Ark., is the guest of her brother, M. L. Beattie and wife. Miss Beattie arrived last Friday.

FIRE NEAR SKIDMORE

A Barn on the A. C. Barber Farm Burned About 3:30 O'Clock Yesterday.

Fire destroyed a large barn on the farm of Mrs. A. C. Barber, located three miles west from Skidmore. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Linville live on the farm. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Linville about 3 o'clock, after it had gained considerable headway. Several neighbors answered Mrs. Linville's call for help, and succeeded in saving part of the contents of the barn, but were unable to extinguish the blaze. Two tons of hay, two loads of oats, 150 bushels of corn and a set of harness were totally destroyed. Mr. Linville was working in an oat field a mile and one-half from home at the time of the misfortune. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

TO THE STATE FAIR

COMMERCIAL CLUB INVITED TO MOTOR TO SEDALIA.

CLUB DAY AUGUST 13

The St. Joseph Club Urges the Maryville Club to Join Them in Motoring to State Fair That Day.

Tuesday, August 13, is Commercial Club Day at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia. Secretary Claypool, of the Maryville Commercial Club, has received an invitation from the St. Joseph Commercial club, inviting the members of the local club to join in a motor trip to Sedalia for Commercial Club Day.

The 13th is a big day at the State Fair, and Mr. Claypool is very anxious that Maryville send a delegation to Sedalia for that occasion. It is hoped that at least six cars can go from Maryville to St. Joseph, and from there travel with the St. Joseph delegation to Sedalia.

J. M. Huston is chairman of the Nodaway County Committee on Exhibits for the state fair. The other members of the committee are Charles D. Bellows and Lawrence Ogden. Because of the shortness of time no special county exhibit has been arranged, but individual exhibits will be made by various farmers and stockmen of Nodaway county.

TO OPEN SCHOOL AGAIN

The Star of the West School, Near Sheridan, Will Start Again After Having Been Closed 3 Years.

William Toops and Dave Brogan, president and clerk of the school board of the Star of the West school, in the northeast part of this county, near Sheridan, were in Maryville today conferring with County Superintendent Bert Cooper in regard to the opening of that school next September. Miss Cleola Dowis has been employed to teach the school. This school has been closed the past three years.

NOW ASSOCIATION MEMBER

Commercial Club Now a Member of the Highways Industries Association.

Secretary Claypool yesterday received word that the Maryville Commercial Club has been admitted to an associate membership in the Highway Industries' Association. This is a national association formed for the purpose of facilitating the transportation of materials for road building during the war period. Because of the congested condition of traffic it is necessary that special regulations be adopted in order to bring about a satisfactory means of transporting materials for roadbuilding. The membership in the association makes it possible for Nodaway county to get shipments of material within reasonable time when desired.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gibbons, of Belleville, Ill., have come to Maryville, where they will make their home. Mr. Gibbons is a traveling salesman for the Rice-Stix Dry Goods Company, of St. Louis.

Miss Beatrice Growney and her brother, Rev. Father Phillip Growney, went to Conception yesterday to visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Casteel and daughter, of Ravenwood, were among the out-of-town people in Maryville today.

YANKS IN VICTORY

HAVE RETAKEN ALL FORMER POSITIONS FROM GERMANS.

OVER 1,000 PRISONERS

Americans Deliver Smashing Counter Blow to Advancing Germans on the Marne Front.

London, July 16.—The American troops are engaged with the Germans over an eight-mile front, between Vaux and Chezy, and near La Chappelle on the Marne front.

London.—The American troops between Fossoy and Crezancy have retaken all their former positions from the Germans on the southern bank of the Marne, the International News Association learned this afternoon from an authoritative source. The Brittish have again improved their line att Villers-Bretonneux.

With the American Army on the Marne, July 16.—The German prisoners captured in the counter atttack by the Americans at the bend on the Marne numbered between one thousand and fifteen hundred. They include a complete brigade staff.

With the American Army on the Marne, July 16.—A strong American counter attack south of the river bend completely upset the Germans, who broke in retreat. The American troops drove the enemy back all the way to the railway skirting the Marne in the region southwest of Jaulgonne. This position now is being held.

The French general commanding the group of armies on this sector sent a congratulatory message this afternoon to the American general commanding the forces which beat back the enemy.

The fighting continues with fierce intensity in this district, while the battle rages with equal ferocity on the right, where the French are reported to have delivered a smashing blow against the enemy. From this section of the battle front it appears that the German offensive, at least for the time being, has been shattered.

A FARM HELP DIRECTOR

Secretary Claypool Has Been Appointed Farm Help Director for Nodaway—Maryville Second.

Maryville was second in the state in organizing for handling the farm labor problem and in placing all men at work on farms, according to a letter received by Secretary E. M. Claypool, of the Commercial club, from Ira F. Reed, farm help specialist, of the Department of Agriculture of Missouri. Sedalia was first in the state.

Maryville registered ninety-six men for service in the harvest fields. Seventeen calls were answered and the men sent during the harvest period.

Mr. Claypool has been appointed by Mr. Reed as farm help director for this county.

Mr. Claypool has received a letter from Uel W. Lamkin, state director of the boys' working reserve, in which he says that the bronze badges for the members of the boys' working reserve have not been received from Washington, and that it may be some time before a supply can be secured, owing to the congested conditions of traffic.

A SHORT COURSE SCHOOL

For County Superintendents and Teachers Who Intend to Take Up Visualized Rural Life Work.

A short course school from July 29 to August 2, will be held either in Maryville or some rural school house, to be conducted by P. G. Holden, the corn man; T. J. Walker, the rural school inspector, and four other experts. The institute is being held for the county superintendents of this normal district, and the school teachers of this county who are taking up vitalized rural life work. There are fifteen teachers in the county who intend to take up this work the coming year.

Such a course is being conducted at the State Normal school at the summer term, under the direction of Miss Mildred Miller, Miss Hettie Anthony and George Palfreyman.

Miss Frank Goodson and her sister, Mrs. Doris Bishop, of Ravenwood, left Sunday for Colorado, where they will visit relatives.

THE GERMAN OFFENSIVE HAS BEEN CHECKED

WERE UNABLE TO PENETRATE ALLIED BATTLE POSITIONS GERMANS WILL ABANDON LATEST DRIVE.

REIMS STILL HELD BY FRENCH TROOPS

Should Germans Be Unable to Gain Toward Paris, Experts Expect a Renewal of the Drive on Channel Ports.

London, July 16.—The entire German offensive has been checked, it was stated. The news at midday was the Germans were evidently bringing up their artillery. The Germans have been unable to penetrate the allied battle positions anywhere. The next two days should show whether or not the Germans will abandon their latest offensive.

London, July 16.—Reims is still held by the French. The German attacks have been repulsed with the heaviest possible losses. The situation on the allies' side is distinctly good and the French are entirely satisfied with it.

After the burst of fighting late Monday, which was marked by extreme violence, the intensity of the struggle on the Champagne front slowed down. There was savage fighting south of the Marne late Monday, with the French and Americans resisting the German shocks valiantly.

London, July 16—The German drive was completely shattered east of Reims, telegraphs Reuter's correspondent at French field headquarters. The enemy planned a twelve-mile advance on the first day. The German losses along the Marne are appalling.

London, July 16.—The great battle on the Marne-Champagne front is still raging, with Gen. von Below and Gen. von Boehms and German armies continuing their assault. It is difficult to say whether or not the whole offensive has been repulsed, but the evidence at hand shows that it was intended for Germany's biggest drive and was not a diversion. Thirty German divisions already have been identified, mostly from the army of Crown Prince Ruprecht of Bavaria.

Terrific losses marked the fifth German offensive and before Monday noon four German divisions that attacked the French, Americans and Italians between Chateau Thierry and Argonne forest, had been cut to pieces and one was completely annihilated.

Should the Germans be unable to gain ground toward Paris they undoubtedly will renew their drive on the channel ports, army expertts say, and British army officers who are familiar with the general situation, explain this drive also will prove futile.

Paris, July 16.—Two men were killed and nine persons, including Miss Jane Jeffery, American nurse, were wounded, when the German airmen bombed the American Red Cross hospital at Joucy. Scores of wounded were in the hospital.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.

The Kansas City Star, referring to the Congressional contest in the fifth district, has this to say:

"If Kansas City were to pick a general to lead its soldier sons to battle, it would choose a tried and proved general, wouldn't it?—not merely somebody who thought he could do a better job than the experienced and proved general.

"Kansas City doesn't have to pick a general this summer but it does have to select a representative of this district in Congress. In war time, representation in Congress is more important than ever. Problems of the greatest magnitude that affect not only the district but the future of the Nation come up for decision.

"A new man wouldn't amount to a rap in the next Congress or for several succeeding Congresses. There is only one excuse for turning out the tried and experienced member now. That one excuse is because he is or has been wrong on the war—the winning of which is every American's one concern. This isn't the time to experiment."

That same logic applies with force to our own district. The fourth district has a Congressman in the person of Charley Booher who has not only been faithfully on the job, but he has been squarely back of the administration throughout this whole war. That most severe critic, the St. Louis Republic, has examined his record and approved it. His record has been one of unvarying support of the war and the war administration.

The President will be pleased and his task will be made easier if those men who have helped him in his program thus far are returned to his support in the next Congress. Suppose the President should be confronted in next Congress with an entirely new and untrained membership? Business would be practically suspended until the raw material could be shaped into a harmonious working force, during which time confusion and uncertainty would reign.

Democrats may remember too, that there is a very narrow margin of three or four between the democratic and republican memberships of the House of Representatives. Should control pass to the other side through the gain of a few republican members the President would be more than ever in need of the assistance of those who have stood by him in the past.

The first and greatest consideration with all of us is to get through with this war successfully and quickly. Our boys, our friends, our money and the thought of the nation have been given to the cause without reserve. Indeed, this is not the time to experiment where experiment is not necessary.

To St. Joseph Meeting.

Fred Yeomans and Sheriff Dowden went to St. Joseph today to take Harmon C. Reeder and Mrs. George Applegatte to the state asylum. While there Mr. Yeomans and Sheriff Dowden, who are members of the local draft board, will attend the meeting of the members of the draft boards of the northwest part of this state.

SHOULD BE NOMINATED.

The Banner will support former Governor Joseph W. Folk for United States Senator.

We shall consider the senatorial campaign and all other political matters only in their relation to the war.

We have no heart or space this year for any other sort of politics.

Mr. Folk is American through and through. He has given notice to the pro-Huns that he neither expects nor desires their support. We can follow his leadership without a doubt of the wisdom of our course.

Mr. Folk ought to be nominated and elected because his services will be valuable to the country, both in winning the war, and in the national readjustment, particularly of transportation matters, to follow the war.

Missourians are bound to see this aspect of the race before the campaign goes very far.—Piedmont Democrat-Banner.

POPULAR WITH PEOPLE.

From the Walnut Grove Tribune.

Mr. Folk is generally recognized in Missouri and over the entire United States as the fearless Governor, and his work in the executive chair will never be forgotten for its extensive and intensive reforms.

Joe, as he is popularly called, is popular with the people, as all know on which side they will find him when any question of loyalty or publicinterest comes up for settlement.

Judging from his record as public officer in the past and his rank as the highest type of manhood, one can be safe in voting for Mr. Folk for any position.

FOLK CAN BE ELECTED.

Our choice for U. S. Senator is Joseph Wingate Folk. In the first place he is our ideal of a public man and in the next place he is entitled to the nomination. Lastly, he can be elected. We believe that Mr. Folk will make a better servant of the people than his opponent, Mr. Wilfley. For these reasons we espouse his cause.—Kirkwood Courier.

[POLITICAL ADVERTISING]

FOLK FOR U. S. SENATOR.

From Montgomery County Leader.

In the matter of loyalty in this crisis, Joseph W. Folk stands out as one of the administration's warmest supporters in every activity looking toward winning the war. He has been and is now in the confidence of President Wilson. His association with governmental affairs at Washington makes him conversant with the problems uppermost there. Mr. Folk was Governor of Missouri four years and during that time did more to break up violations of the Sunday dram shop law and race track gambling than any man before or since. The Leader editor has always been an admirer of Joe Folk and would not be at all displeased to see him take Stone's seat in the United States Senate. Keep your eye on Folk.

FOLK'S ABILITY PROVEN.

Chips is really and truly pleased to see Joseph W. Folk in the race for U. S. Senator. Mr. Folk has time and again proved his ability and fearlessness in doing what is right. He put the "lid" on in St. Louis despite the power of the whisky and beer interests. He scattered the boodlers, he knocked higher than Gilderoy's kite the race trackers and gambling that was making more defaulters of young men than anything else under the sun could do. Yes, we admire Mr. Folk very much. If for nothing else, then for the enemies he has made. Personally, we hope to see Joseph W. Folk garbed in the toga of a Senator. —Middletown Chips.

FOLK NO EXPERIMENT.

From the Marceline Herald.

Joseph W. Folk of St Louis, former circuit attorney and a man who has been Governor of this great state, is now a candidate for United States Senator from Missouri, and has established headquarters in his home city, where he has some strong support. Former Governor Folk is a man who does things and with whom there will be no experimenting on the part of the people.

CONCESSION TO THRESHERS.

Permitted to Buy More Wheat Flour Than Allowed by 50-50 Rule.

Independent threshing crews may now purchase and consume wheat flour on a basis which will give them more wheat flour than is permitted by the present fifty-fifty rule. A total of not more than twelve pounds of wheat flour a month may be purchased for each member of the crew. With this twelve pounds of wheat flour six pounds of substitutes must be purchased and consumed. This gives threshing crews six pounds more wheat flour a month for each member of the crew.

This modification of the flour supply and the fifty-fifty rule was made at a recent meeting in Kansas City of regional zone No. 7 of the food administration, which comprises the states of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa and Nebraska. It is limited to a period of three weeks, from July 10 to August 1.

Members of the zone committee believed that unless independent threshing crews were permitted to use more than six pounds of wheat flour a month per capita, the effect upon threshing would be detrimental, and that the use by such crews of equal weight of substitutes is impracticable.
